Artistic residency program
2023

The a cobert residences aim to offer a space and suitable conditions for the development of artistic or research projects, however, to serve as a platform for dissemination, support and advice for artists, bringing them closer to the artistic circuits and creating synergies with the citizens and cultural agents of the region, as well as promoting the enjoyment of a unique natural environment and a rural environment that enables the concentration required for artistic production and research.

The a cobert residences are aimed at artists and researchers, adults, as well as groups of people in creative processes, from any field and artistic discipline: plastic arts, performing arts, thought, literature, cinema, performance, science and technology, gender studies, history, among others. The a cobert residences do not host musical projects due to their specificity.

The residences are open to people of any nationality and language as well as without age limit or distinction of origin, current residence, gender, sexual orientation, etc. From the shed, we work with small groups, with a simultaneous stay of between 2 and 4 people, to make coexistence between projects something non-distorting and to be able to offer the care, space and artistic advice that the projects require with quality and dedication.

The residence have two spaces: the spacework, a cobert, and the house, Cal 13 Bis, separated by a few meters from each other.

The length of stay can be between 1 and 4 weeks and must be between the months of May and September.

Conditions

The residency program includes accommodation, work space and artistic advice from the center team and contact with the cultural agents of the area as well as an optional exhibition at the end of the process.

The artistic residencies of a cobert are paid, we understand our program as an opening to the possibility of developing projects far from the bureaucracy and the usual demands of a call and, since not all processes are the same, nor are often faced with the time and dedication to wait for a resolution, we offer the artistic residency program as a stay and work request by paying for it.

However, the applications are subject to a selection process where the quality of the project, the expository clarity, that the project is consistent with the philosophy of the space and the adequacy of the proposal to the space

At the end of the residency, you will be given the option to hold an open exhibition of the projects worked on.

The jury for the selection of participants is made up of the center's team.
